The Six-Drop Rule

The state of Texas has enacted a statute that applies to students who enroll in public institutions of higher education as first-time freshman in Fall 2007 or later. Under section 51.907 of the Texas Higher Education Code, "an institution of higher education may not permit a student to drop more than six courses including any course a transfer student has dropped at another institution of higher education." Any courses a student drops after the published census date is counted toward this six course limit unless specifically identified as being exempt.
